President Joe Biden offered his condolences during an immigration event at the White House.